THE RAYMOND LION

FAIRNESS: The absence of injustice or fraud; the putting of all things on an equal basis; impartial, just, upright, equitable, honest; without undue advantage.

— Webster's

"Nor did I ask for more than a fair stage and no favorite."

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in his radio address on December 6, 1933, before the Federated Council of Churches, in Washington, said:

"We recognize the right of the individual to seek and obtain his own fair wage, his own fair profit, in his own fair way — just so long as in the doing of it he shall not push down or hold down his own neighbors."

From his point of view it is fair to obtain a fair wage, it is fair to obtain a fair profit, providing the profit is made in a fair way. But it is unfair to push or hold down a neighbor.

Lions, in their Code of Ethics, have taught this, and even more. Let us read the second and third paragraphs of our Code of Ethics:

To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my self-respect, lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.

To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and be true to myself.

We demand success, a fair profit, as our just due. But this profit or success shall not come at the price of our own self-respect, lost because of unfair advantages taken or because of questionable acts.

With Lions, self-respect comes first, which after all is just fairness to one's self. And being fair to one's self, it naturally follows that you will be fair to the other fellow. While President Roosevelt was talking about the other fellow, the Lions deal with the individual, for a Lion is unfair to himself if he tears down another. He is unfair to himself if he is not loyal to his clients or customers, and certainly he is not fair to himself if he is not true to himself; for, Shakespeare put it:

"This above all: to thine own self be true, And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou canst not then be false to any man."

Fairness to one's self means loyalty to one's self. It involves a duty, a trust, an obligation, fidelity. It involves a faith in the worthiness of our vocation. It is our duty, our trust, our obligation, in fairness to ourselves, to be loyal to our vocation. And what applies to our vocation applies to our city, our state, our government and our clubs. It is our duty, our trust, our obligation to protect all of these. It is unfair to ask someone else to do something that we would not do ourselves. That is why we have laws, and certainly that is why our Lions International has a Constitution and By-Laws, which prescribe certain laws that in reality are certain duties.

It is our duty to attend our club luncheons, to support financially, morally, mentally and physically, in fact in every way, the Club and the Association to which we belong. When we became members of it we obligated ourselves to do these things, and if we are not loyal to it we are untrue to ourselves, and unfair to others in our Club and in our Association.

1901 RAYMOND'S GOLDEN JUBILEE 1951

Our town will celebrate its fiftieth birthday on July 1st of this year

Plan now to do your part in making the celebration a success

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bishop have moved to Barnwell for the summer where they have a farm.

Just Penning Thanks (Margaret Huszar)

If you could see at all last week, you probably saw "The Thing", incarnate, or thought you saw it. Have no fear, you are not going wacky, you did not have one too many, you really saw it. Remember the inmates of the R.H.S. observed their annual glamor week, Sadie Hawkins style. Believe me, Sadie would have been outraged. Throughout the week, only ghosts of the girls were present, and I mean ghosts. Since the rules did not permit the use of war-paint, my above statement is entirely correct. Of course, if the wind had changed to blow a knot into your hair, you immediately got it washed out. Because of this unnecessary cleansing the girls' washroom was closed. Undaunted the shower in the gym was the next place used. When this, too, was locked the tap in the Grade 11 room was pressed into service.

The costumes were simply weird. You could not recognize your closest friends. Tatters and rags were not enough. Watercolors and paints completed ensembles. It was enough to give a surrealist the heebie-geebies.

All law-breakers were brought to justice Friday afternoon at court. Teddie Finch acted as presiding judge and his antics livened up the dreary court proceedings. Several offenders were brought up and although they pleaded innocent (and most of them were) they were pronounced guilty and were duly sentenced.

The dance in honor of the week's heroine (Sadie) was good. There, too, the students, and teachers, stepped out in their ugly worst. It was fun.

Sadie Hawkins ends for another year, and for some of us, forever.

4th Ward MIA Hosts Unusual Party

It would have been somewhat confusing for a stranger had he walked in on the party held Tuesday night in the Stake House by the Fourth Ward Mutual. For instance the partygoers, who had their clothes on backwards, found the front door locked and had to go around to the back door where they were handed their dessert, a popcorn ball, and ushered into the Recreation Hall. Here Vede Gilchrist as C. M. announced the following program, a duet vocal by Mc Bride Anita and Ladine; a solo piano by Wing Barbara; a reading by Galbraith, Lynn; and the first number, a solo vocal by Sommerfeldt, Sharlene.

Ruth and Bill Nalder then took over for awhile for some old time and mixer dances, after which sandwiches and punch were served.

A very enjoyable time was had by the Fourth Ward as hosts and the Third Ward as guests.

New Golden Gleaners Honored

The eighth annual Taylor Stake Golden Gleaner Banquet was held on Friday April 20th. In the Stake House when 53 Golden Gleaners and Stake Board Members met to honor the new Golden Gleaners.

A delicious chicken supper was served followed by a program with Alice Stevens as M. C. Eleanor Hudson led the group in a Sing Song, accompanied by Emma Dahl at the piano. Vanda Wilde sang a lovely solo followed by a saxophone solo by Nadine Forsythe accompanied by Melba Ackroyd. A Toast to the New Golden Gleaners was proposed by Melba Meheew and the Reply was made by Enid Lee. The first honary Golden Gleaner of our Stake, Mrs. Elizabeth King, was then presented by Mrs. Taylor.

June Anderson gave a humorous Reading after which the Guest Speaker Elmer Ririe of Magrath made a few remarks. Mona Palmer, Janet Turner and Rita Walker sang a beautiful number after which Ruth Nalder presented an appropriate Reading.

Expressions of thoughts about GG work were given by the new Golden Gleaners as follows: Evelyn Barton, Marie Dahl, Jolayne Hill, Gertrude Hudson, Janet Turner, Jolayne Dahl, Elaine Salmon, Rita Walker, Willa Rae Walker, Enid Lee, Fontella Boehme, Della Paxman and Mrs. Elizabeth King.

Officers elected for the coming year were Rita Walker, Janet Turner, and Marie Dahl.

A very enjoyable time was had by all.

Mrs. Deline Evesson and children of Brooks are visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Meldrum.

Debris Or Not Debris

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world"—one of those benign platitudes that has been practically lulled into obscurity by its continual acceptance for what it is—the truth. Far be it from me to contend that a mother is not the power behind any throne upon which a man may sit—too many people acknowledge the guidance and inspiration of a mother in all phases of life for me not to. But this English language is a strange one—on consulting Webster I find a few pertinent facts pertaining to the word "cradle" Before man's ingenuity gave us the binder, the thrasher and the combine, father was right in there with his cradle too: in other words it was a scythe with wood en fingers attached used to harvest grain.

Whats more, in the days of the gold rush mom stayed home and rocked the baby's cradle but pop took his own out on the banks of some lonely stream, loaded it up with sand and gravel and did his share of rocking too. His cradle consisted of a frame or box on rockers and it was used to wash the gold from the gravel and when he had retrieved the shining particles Dad took them home to mother in a little buckskin poke—and mother bought, of all things, a new cradle. Your right, when the baby cried at night pop did his share of rocking the new cradle. All in all, (continued on page two)

World Traveller At ---

A young man with a definite yen for travel is Mark, four year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Orson Bingham. Tuesday morning while his mother was in Cardston, Mark evaded the watchful eye of his caretaker and set out to see his Dad who was practising dentistry in Magrath. After his chubby little legs had carried him three miles in the direction of the Garden City, he was tired, hungry and in the mood for relaxation, so when Mrs. Winkler invited him in for dinner he accepted —gladly. Mrs. Winkler phoned Dr. Gordon Anderson and after explaining the situation offered to bring the "traveller" home after dinner, but Gordon jumped into his car and went out to get the still-tired but well-fed little man with big ideas.

Attendance Records Broken at Conference

Elder Alma Sonne and Elder Wm. T. Lawrence were the representatives of the general authorities of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at the Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake held here last week-end.

The Saturday evening session was devoted to the affairs of the Priesthood of the Church with representatives of each Quorum giving a brief report on the activities of his respective group. The visiting members commended the Taylor Stake for its progressiveness in Welfare Work and gave other timely and well-received advice.

The morning and afternoon sessions of the Conference were devoted to the reports of the returned missionaries and to instructions and counsel by the

Wm. Jensen, Mayor
Raymond, Alberta

Dear Mr. Jensen:
May I thank the people of Raymond, through you, for the wonderful hospitality shown the Duke of Connaught High School boys and myself during our recent visit to your fair city.

I especially would like to compliment Mr. Lyman Jacobs for the efficient manner in which he conducted the basketball series. Having sponsored similar games, I can appreciate the amount of time and labor involved.

The work of the referees, time-keepers and scorers was most satisfactory in all three closely-contested games.

The writer will always remember the wonderful display of sportsmanship by the players and spectators after the final and deciding game. Only true sportsmen could accept defeat so gracefully after victory had seemed so certain.

The members of the 1951 "Dukes" will always retain pleasant memories of their short but pleasant stay at Raymond.

Yours in appreciation,
Ken Wright (Coach)

A Springtime Hazard --- Grass Fire

Wednesday morning someone sat on the button that sounds off the fire alarm to call the Brigade out to extinguish a grass fire at the Myrtle Williams home. The fire started innocently enough but the wind spread it until the whole yard was a fire and buildings were being threatened. Friends and neighbors were fighting the blaze when the water wagon arrived to finish the job.

It is fortunate indeed that we have had no serious fires within the town limits recently. Fortunate for two reasons. The first is, as we all know, that fire is a horrible and costly thing when it destroys one's home and belongings. The second is that the general public does not co-operate with the Volunteer Fire Brigade as it should.

As we have said before, those men have a job to do and do not want to waste time in doing it. The faster they can get to the fire the better chance they have of bringing the blaze under control with a minimum of loss. To get to the scene of the fire these volunteers have to travel by fire wagon, car or truck and there is where the general public proves to be a general nuisance.

It would be a great help to the Fire Department if people would clear the road for them and let them do the job they set out for. This does not mean that after the Fire Truck has passed everyone can put his car truck or bicycle on the road and race to the fire. Most of the volunteers have to get to the fire in their own cars and there isn't much use of the water getting there if there are no experienced men around to man the hose and chemicals.

Not only should people clear the road for the fire fighters but they should keep out of their way at the scene of the fire. Work is often hampered when people get too close to the fire truck and the hose. It should be stated here that by people we mean adults as well as the younger folks. Oft times firemen have to fight their way through a crowd to be able to even get to the fire.

Remember—it may be your house next and you will want the Fire Department to have every chance of saving your belongings and will be anxious to help, so do the same for your neighbors—keep out of the way yourself and teach your children to do the same.

Our phone number is 24.

Progressive Dinner

A Progressive Dinner for the Second Ward M Men and Gleaners was much enjoyed by twenty-seven members last Thursday night. Cocktail and appetizers were served at the Mutt and Ralph and Fred Piegrass homes, and a delicious chicken dinner with all the trimmings was had at the George Ericksons. The lovely dessert was next on the menu at the Clarence Bowdens and then they proceeded to the D. A. Bennett home for some lively games. One person was heard to remark that they needed them lively after all that food.

A very enjoyable time was reported by all present.

Mrs. Lucille Tillack of Rosemary, who is the guest of her mother Mrs. Geneva McBride, is visiting her many relatives and friends in town for a few days.

Golden Anniversary

Can you imagine what the country between Magrath and Stirling looked like before Raymond was built? If not I will help you. There was not a house; there were no buildings of any kind; no trees; no fences; no roads; just plain prairie with grass so tall it would reach up to the stirrup of a rider on horseback. And talk about mosquitoes, one old-timer expressed himself by saying that there seemed to be a thousand mosquitoes to every blade of grass.

Here's the quiz:

Question One: Who was the founder of Raymond?

Answer: That great and good man, Jesse Knight.

Question: When did "Uncle" Jesse first come to this country?

Answer: He came in the early spring of 1901. Mr. C. A. Magrath met Mr. Knight on the train in April and when they were in the vicinity of the present town site of Raymond, Mr. Knight, looking over the country, set his eyes on this spot and said he could visualize a fine settlement here.

Question: What happened next?

Answer: On the 28th of May Jesse Knight went to see Mr. Magrath and made a proposal to erect a sugar factory here. Mr. Magrath remarked: "That was an amazing thing to come from a single individual."

Answer: Did Mr. Magrath accept Mr. Knight's proposal?

Answer: Yes, but first he desired his company to regard the proposal seriously and therefore asked Mr. Knight to make a deposit of $50,000 as a guarantee of good faith. Mr. Knight immediately complied with the request.

Question: What was Mr. Magrath's opinion of the man he was dealing with?

Answer: His own words were: "Mr. Knight is the most unusual man I ever met, a man of the finest integrity. I would describe him as the poor man's friend."

My opinion is that southern Alberta should never forget what it owes to Jesse Knight. I question if there would be a sugar beet grown in Alberta today if it were not for Jesse Knight and the good will that existed between his church leaders and our Irrigation Co."

The football, that is the plans for the celebration of Raymond's Jubilee, has been kicked around enough and has at last landed in its proper place the lap of the Town Council committee for Recreation. That Committee is now getting busy and will appoint sub-committees, in the near future, to take on some of the huge responsibility that such a celebration is bound to bring.

The official day for the Jubilee is August 26th but the Council decided to kill two birds with one stone and have July 1st as the day. What with Dominion Day, the final day of the Stampede and the birthday party all coming on the same day, the affair should be one to shake the foundations of the earth.

But—with the first of July less than ten weeks away the work that should have been being planned for the past year now has to be done in a big hurry.

This is the Town's birthday—not that of any group or organization and it is right for the Town Council to accept its responsibility, and it is also right for each and every citizen of our town to be willing to assist in any way he or she can to make Raymond's birthday party a success.

We have heard that many prominent people who are descendants of the early pioneers are planning to attend

Local children will have little opportunity to observe "little Robin red breast" this year unless a lot of them come to settle in our town at this late date. The robins are among the first of our feathered friends to come in the Spring and their early arrival this year spelled their doom. The "baby blizzard" took a great toll of the robin population. Attendance Records at Conference

Stake Presidency, Pres. T. Geo. Wood and the visiting brethren. Four missionaries were heard, Marjorie Harker of Magrath reported her labors in the Hawaiian Mission, Elder Eugene Dahl from the Eastern Canadian Mission and Elders Don Law from Magrath and Kay Cook who recently returned from the Australian Mission.

The Stake MIA was in charge of the evening session which was highlighted by the presentation of Golden Gleaner certificates to thirteen young ladies and the special presentation of an Honorary Golden Gleaner certificate to Mrs. Elizabeth King who has worked faithfully in the YWMA cause for fifty years. Sharing the honor with the ladies were four young men who received their Master M Men certificates. W. E. Brown of Magrath was presented with the certificate earned by his son Dan, who is at present in the U.S.

Malcolm Bridge, Dora King, Janet Turner, Joe Keeler, Jolayne Dahl, Mrs. F. R. Taylor as well as Elders Sonne and Lawrence also contributed to the inspiring program.

The music for the first two sessions was supplied by the Stake Choir under the direction of W. C. Stone with Rol Ston and Emma Dahl as accompanists. The M. Men and Gleaners Chorus provided the music for the evening session with J. L. Gibb as director and Emma Dahl as accompanist.

The attendance at the Conference broke Stake records with a total of 2,954 persons attending — 1,069 at the morning session, 1,029 at the afternoon and 856 at the evening session.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO ?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bank-book, and wondered: "Where does the money go?" You may have wondered, too, where does our money go—the money we receive for gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants and other products we sell. Well, last year each dollar we received went this way:

CRUDE OIL and the other raw materials we bought took half of each dollar.

OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE expenses took more than 25 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.

TRANSPORTATION of products from our refineries to marketing points took the next big bite of the dollar. Products moved over wide areas to serve every community in Canada.

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 7.64 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax which—depending on where you live—took from 22 to 33 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future took 3.59 cents.

DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 3.45 cents.

Question: Did Jesse Knight build the sugar factory here to make more money?

Answer: No indeed. He said, "My means are the Lord's to be used in the right way. I hope that I will never become selfish but that I will be blessed with wisdom to use my means as the Lord would have me use them."

His purpose was to build the factory for the benefit of the settlers in the surrounding country.

Local Happenings

Mrs. Gerald Watson and children were visitors in Rosemary last week where they were guests of Mrs. Watson's sister, Mrs. Stan Parker and her family. Gerald joined her there and on their way home the Watsons stopped off at DeWinton to visit Mrs. Watson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McLean who recently settled in that district.

Mrs. Jean Palmer and children of Edmonton are visiting at the Leslie Palmer home this week. Her husband Lamont just completed writing his examinations at the University of Alberta and will start interning at the Royal Alexander Hospital in Edmonton on May 16th.

Charles Watson has purchased the T. Kubota house and expects to move his family in in the next week or so.

Bobby Allred, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allred entertained a number of small friends on the occasion of his fifth birthday Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday evening a number of friends met at the home of Katherine Brandley for a very enjoyable evening of visiting and sewing. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

The ladies of the Third Ward Relief Society wish to express their appreciation to all those who assisted in making their Bazaar and Pantry Sale such a success.

Mrs. Margaret King has as her guests her daughter Sara King and Mrs. Alice Brewerton both of Vancouver. They arrived in Lethbridge on Saturday by plane and plan to be visiting here for three or four weeks.

Bob Greep, who is on his way to the Australian Mission, made his folks Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greep and his brother Wayne, very happy last Saturday afternoon when he telephoned from Salt Lake City to tell them he was leaving for San Francisco.

The Legion Ladies held a Whist Party Tuesday night with twelve tables in play. The Door Prize was won by Larosa Kirkham and Mrs. J. Dainard took top honors for top score and Maude Rolfsen took Consolation prize. The lovely lunch was served, bringing the evening to a close.

The committee in charge was made up of Mesdames Mary Thompson, Carol Shaw, Val Attwood and Flo McKean.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Garner attended a family dinner in Cardston on Tuesday honoring Mrs. Garner's mother Mrs. O. Nielson on her 83rd birthday. Mrs. Nielson accompanied the Garners back to Raymond where she will be their guest for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid Litchfield have as their guests Mrs. L. Hall of Magrath.

Geo. Garner recently spent the week end in Calgary visiting his parents.
